as was mentioned above, the symptoms of stimulant psychosis are subject to individual variation as well as drug variation if you can't avoid busy office times, tell the receptionist when you call that you need to leave by a certain time nevertheless, the process still occurs spontaneously, since the degree of order in the system decreases some guys fall out of whack and lose their hair, some guys don't tyrosine has the tendency to elevate blood pressure so it should not be taken along with dietary medications.