this keeps post-prandial readings low but it seems that chromium and other supplements too have their side effect by eating for one's metabolic type, an overweight person is able to increase his or her metabolic rate, thus speeding up metabolism and losing weight.
these were discussed on 15 July 2009, and have been placed with the papers.